

workmatters®

Bridging the gap between faith and work®

www.workmatters.org

Get Connected!

www.workmatters.org
www.fromsundaytomonday.org (blog)
www.twitter.com/workmatters
www.facebook.com/workmatters

Contact us:

WorkMatters, Inc.
P.O. Box 9376
Fayetteville, AR 72703
info@workmatters.org
479.444.1477

Support WorkMatters

WorkMatters is a 501 (c)3 non-profit organization. Over 70% of our income comes from individuals. As the ministry continues to grow and impact thousands of lives in the marketplace, our financial needs continue to grow as well. You can learn about how to donate at www.workmatters.org. Thank you for your prayerful consideration of powering our vision to impact culture for Christ through faith at work.

"The concept of bringing my faith into the workplace was completely foreign to me until I started working for my new boss. I watched the way he worked, treated others, and acted when people weren't watching. I realized there was something different about him. It wasn't until he invited me to a WorkMatters event that I knew from where he drew his inspiration. That morning was awesome and every WorkMatters event since then has been the same"

About WorkMatters

Do you realize that you spend 50% of your life working?
One-half of your adult life will be spent at work!
Do you want it to matter?

WorkMatters' mission is to help you bridge the gap between faith and work. Launched in 2003 as a 501c3 non-profit in Fayetteville, Ark., WorkMatters is a marketplace focused ministry. Our staff members come from careers in the marketplace and have a passion to help men and women impact culture for Christ through their faith at work.

Unique marketplace ministries are targeted and tailored to Professionals (ages 35+), Young Professionals (ages 22-35), and College Students (Juniors/Seniors). They are integrated so that each generation can influence and mentor the next generation!

WorkMatters resources are both local and global.
Locally ... relational, face to face equipping and teaching.
Globally ... online resources, blogs, podcasts, videos, and social media.

Go to www.workmatters.org to learn more.

WorkMatters Vision

Impacting Culture for Christ through Faith at Work

Professionals

Eight to Five has encouraged and equipped thousands of men and women in their life at work. Based on The Seven Pillars of Faith at Work, Eight to Five provides a monthly teaching and group discussion on the "how to's" of faith at work, followed by a series of weekly Blog posts. The powerful monthly teachings are available via podcast on iTunes or workmatters.org.

Young Professionals

Over a 10-year period, the next generation of leaders will launch their careers, likely get married and start a family...AND begin to truly own what they believe about God. ENGAGE is focused on helping this generation fuse their faith, work and life.

College Students

Kairos teaches college students how to bridge the gap between the campus and marketplace prior to launching their careers. It is an intense summer intern program that provides juniors and seniors the opportunity to be taught and mentored through a LIVE, WORK, TRAIN, and SERVE model.

About WorkMatters

Do you realize that you spend 50% of your life working?
One-half of your adult life will be spent at work!
Do you want it to matter?

WorkMatters' mission is to help you bridge the gap between faith and work. Launched in 2003 as a 501c3 non-profit in Fayetteville, Ark., WorkMatters is a marketplace focused ministry. Our staff members come from careers in the marketplace and have a passion to help men and women impact culture for Christ through their faith at work.

Unique marketplace ministries are targeted and tailored to Professionals (ages 35+), Young Professionals (22-25), and College Students (Juniors/Seniors). They are integrated so that each generation can influence and mentor the next generation!

WorkMatters resources are both local and global. Locally ... relational, face to face equipping and teaching. Globally ... web based resources, blogs, podcasts, videos, and social media.

WorkMatters Vision

Impacting Culture for Christ through Faith at Work

Professionals

Eight to Five has encouraged and equipped thousands of men and women in their life at work. Based on The Seven Pillars of Faith at Work, Eight to Five provides a monthly teaching and group discussion on the "how to's" of faith at work, followed by a series of weekly Blog posts. The powerful monthly teachings are available via podcast on iTunes or workmatters.org.

Young Professionals

Over a 10-year period, the next generation of leaders will launch their careers, likely get married and start a family...AND begin to truly own what they believe about God. ENGAGE is focused on helping this generation fuse their faith, work and life.

College Students

Kairos teaches college students how to bridge the gap between the campus and marketplace prior to launching their careers. It is an intense summer intern program that provides juniors and seniors the opportunity to be taught and mentored through a LIVE, WORK, TRAIN, and SERVE model.

About WorkMatters

Do you realize that you spend 50% of your life working?
One-half of your adult life will be spent at work!
Do you want it to matter?

WorkMatters' mission is to help you bridge the gap between faith and work. Launched in 2003 as a 501c3 non-profit in Fayetteville, Ark., WorkMatters is a marketplace focused ministry. Our staff members come from careers in the marketplace and have a passion to help men and women impact culture for Christ through their faith at work.

Unique marketplace ministries are targeted and tailored to Professionals (ages 35+), Young Professionals (22-25), and College Students (Juniors/Seniors). They are integrated so that each generation can influence and mentor the next generation!

WorkMatters resources are both local and global. Locally ... relational, face to face equipping and teaching. Globally ... web based resources, blogs, podcasts, videos, and social media.

WorkMatters Vision

Impacting Culture for Christ through Faith at Work

Professionals

Eight to Five has encouraged and equipped thousands of men and women in their life at work. Based on The Seven Pillars of Faith at Work, Eight to Five provides a monthly teaching and group discussion on the "how to's" of faith at work, followed by a series of weekly Blog posts. The powerful monthly teachings are available via podcast on iTunes or workmatters.org.

Young Professionals

Over a 10-year period, the next generation of leaders will launch their careers, likely get married and start a family...AND begin to truly own what they believe about God. ENGAGE is focused on helping this generation fuse their faith, work and life.

College Students

Kairos teaches college students how to bridge the gap between the campus and marketplace prior to launching their careers. It is an intense summer intern program that provides juniors and seniors the opportunity to be taught and mentored through a LIVE, WORK, TRAIN, and SERVE model.